THE RECENT OHIO ELECTION.

Views of Gen. H. V. Boynton as to the Causes of Republican Defeat-The State Senate.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 .- Gen H. V. Boynton, the well-known Washington correspondent, has just returned from a twomonths' political tour of Ohio. He is an intimate personal friend of editor Murat Halstead, and doubtless reflects also that gentleman's views as to the causes which led to Republican defeat in the Buckeye State. General Boynton says he heard no mention of President Harrison's administration in connection with expressions from dissatisfied Republicans, and that there were no national issues at stake. The General says, further: "The saloon element did the work—'the saloon crowd and their partners, the Prohibi-tionists.' I class both of them together because they work as one; every-thing the Prohibitionists do is of material advantage to the liquor men, and them only. Some of the labor against the party was done by Republicans who disliked Foraker, and they were quite numerous. They have hated him ever since the Chicago convention; they were displeased at some of his appointments and hurt by some of his removals. A great many were opposed to Foraker's candidacy for a third term. "No; the Tanner business was of little or no consequence. I met a great many soldiers in Ohio, and was with a party of them all the time I was away, but Tanner's name was only mentioned once in my hearing, and then by a mutual friend, who wanted to know how the ex-Commissioner was. Everybody seemed to have a good word for Commis-sioner Raum; those who spoke of his ap-pointment said it was the best that could possibly have been made.

"The situation in Ohio is rather peculiar derstood that we had elected all the State ticket, with the exception of the Governor. This, if true, will give the Senate a Republican presiding officer in the person of the Lieutenant-governor. The Democratic majority in that body will be only one, so you can readily see the repressive influence which a Republican presiding officer can exercise over proposed Democratic

Supreme Court Decides Their Terms Must Be Complied with to Make Them Valid.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 .- Among the decisions rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States to-day was the following: In 1882 Patrick C. Boylan purchased a round-trip tricket from Chicago to Hot Springs, Ark., the ticket not to be good on the return trip unless stamped by the ticket agent at Hot Springs. Boylan signed his name to the ticket and accepted the condition. He did not, on leaving Hot Springs, present the ticket to be stamped, but showed it to the baggageman, who checked his trunk, and to the gateman, who permitted him to enter the train, neither making any objection to the ticket not being stamped. The conductor of the train, however, was more strict, and ejected Boylan from the train because his ticket was not stamped and he refused to pay his fare. Boylan brought suit in Illinois against the Hot Springs Railroad Company for damages for being expelled from the train, alleging that it was a breach of contract, the company having agreed to transport him between the places named. The court ruled against him, and the case comes here for review. The Supreme Court, in an opinion by Judice Gray, affirms the decision of the lower court. It holds that the only contract between the parties was an express one, signed by Boylan himself, as well as by the ticket agent at Chicago. Boylan, having assented to the contract by accepting and signing it, was bound by the conditions expressed in it, whether he did or did not read them or know what they were. The case is held to be the same as that of Mosher vs. the Iron Mountain Railroad Company. The action of the baggage-master and the gateman, it is held, does not change the status of the case.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 .- Hon. Warren G. Sayre, of Wabash, was at the White House to-day to pay his personal respects to President Harrison and Private Secretary Haltord, and to tender his formal acceptance of the Cherokee commissionership, to which he was appointed the other day. While in the executive mansion he met Secretary Noble, and later called upon him at the In-terior Department and received his instructions. He naturally feels complimented in being appointed on a commission as successor to ex-Governor Hartranft, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Sayre left for his home to-night, and will proceed to his field of duty in Indian Territory in a few days. He will stop a day or two at Harrisburg, en route to Indiana.

Bank Officers' Sentences Affirmed. WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.-The Supreme

Court of the United States, to-day, rendered an opinion affirming the judgment of the Supreme Court of North Carolina in the case of Cross and White, the president and cashier, respectively, of the State National Bank, of Raleigh, N. C. The crime with which they were charged and convicted in the State court was forgery of a promissory note, and making of a false entry in the books of the bank for the purpose of deceiving the national bank examiner as to the financial condition of the bank. It was contended in behalf of Cross and White that their offense was cogniza-ble in the federal, and not in the State courts. The Supreme Court, to-day, decided against the convicted bank officers, and they will suffer the penalty fixed by the Wake County Court—Cross seven years, and White five years' hard work on the public roads of the county.

Senator Blair's Tribute to General Mahone, Special to the Indianapolis Journal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 .- Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, stumped Virginia for the Republican ticket, and in speaking, today, of the defeat there, said: "General Mahone is about the best Republican in the United States, in my opinion. The party will be ungrateful if it forgets it. Did he not stand bravely, squarely and aggressively with us on every public question in the Senate? He most certainly did. No braver, more loyal Republican exists in public life, and hestill lives."

Republicans Elect All the State Ticket Except Governor-Lampson's Plurality 131.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—The official returns from sixty counties, received at the Secretary of State's office, and the other twenty-eight, on telegrams from the officals of the counties, indicate that the plurality of Lampson. Republican for Lieutenant-governor, will be 131. These figures will not vary much from the final result. except Governor.

Official Vote in Iowa. DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 11.-The official vote for State officers was canvassed in every county to-day. At 11 o'clock to-night the State Register had received the fuli returns from eighty-six of the ninety-nine counties of the State. They show that Boies, Democrat, for Governor, is elected by a plurality estimated at 6,000. The lowest vote on the Republican ticket outside of Governor was for Lieutenant-governor, and the returns on the eighty-six counties give Poyner, Republican, 150,031; Bestow, Democrat, 152,-543. A probable estimate of the thirteen remaining counties, basing the estimate on the vote for Hutchison, who runs behind Poyner, gives Poyner the election by about 500 plurality. The rest of the Re-publican ticket is therefore also elected by pluralities from one to three thousand.

Mr. Warren was a native of England, and began his business career in New York about fifty years ago. At one time he resided at Cincinnati, but for many years has been a prominent figure here. Gigantic Window-Glass Manufacturers' Pool PITTSBURG, Nov. 11.-A gigantic pool, in which all the leading window-glass manufacturers in the United States will co-operate as to price of product and other matters of importance to the trade, is now in process of organization. When completed the combination will include the members of the Pittsburg Consolidated Window-glass Company, the United Glass Company, the headquarters of which were transferred to Chicago last week, and the Chambers & McKee Company, owner of the tank glass factory, located at Jeannette, Pa. There is a strong probability that all the window-glass manufacturers of Baltimore and the large concerns in Ohio and Indiana which are not controlled by the United Company will also enter the combination, as negotiations looking to that end are now in progress. The new pooling arrangement will go into effect about Jan. 1, 1890. The object is to regulate prices and to shut out foreign importation, if possible.

Closely adjoining it was a corn-crib filled with corn, which was also burned. Mr. Schmitt knew nothing of the fire until awakened by his neighbors, and therefore declares it of incendiary origin. Special to the Indianapolis Journat LOGANSPORT, Nov. 11 .- John Cassel and family and Mrs. Hoffman and children, of Indianapolis, guests of Mrs. Cassel, sat down to dinner yesterday, and shortly afterward were attacked with spells of vomiting, attended with severe pains in the stomach. Their condition grew so alarming that a physician was hastily summoned. Upon his arrival the doctor expressed the opinion that they had been poisoned, and set about to relieve their suffering, as far as it was in his power. Purgatives and emetics were administered freely, and in que time the sick people were resting easily. After the danger point had been passed the doctor began a systematic investigation as to the origin of the trouble, and arrived at the conclusion that it was brought about by eating cabbage that had been sprinkled with Paris green from the fact that the with Paris green, from the fact that the cabbage had been served at dinner, and those that had eaten sparingly of it were but slightly effected, while Mr. Cassel and the children, who had eaten a considerable quantity, suffered the most.

Bloody Duel with Knives Between Brothers-in-Law. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BLOOMINGTON, Nov. 11.—The particulars are just received of a dreadful occurrence by which a well-known farmer of this county will doubtless lose his life. At 6 o'clock P. M., yesterday, Chas. Bolton and William Kerr, two well-known citizens of South Downs. met in a public road. They were brothers-in-law, Kerr's wife being Bolton's sister. A grudge had for some time existed between them in regard to a mortgage on a team of mules, the property of Kerr. They got into a dispute of words which soon merged into a life-and-death conflict. Both drew large clasp-knives and a duel was fought to the death, without seconds or witnesses. Bolton was the victor, though Kerr drew his knife first. He cut and slashed Kerr so dreadfully about the abdomen that his entrails fell out upon the road. As soon as help came to the scene the wounded man was carried to a neighbor's. There is no hope whatever for him. A Minister's Incendiary Partisans.

ANOTHER SOUTHWESTERN BLIZZARD.

Second Heavy Storm in West Kansas and New Mexico-Loss of Life and Stock.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 11.—Dispatches from southern and western Kansas state that a blizzard is sweeping over that country. The wind turned to the north early in the evening, and brought with it snow, which in some localities is drifting badly. At Arkansas City, near the Indian Territory line a, "regular norther" is reported. At Wichita the snow is flying and at Syracuse the blizzard is at its height. Abilene, in the center of the State, reports severe wind and thick snow. No hindrance to railway travel has been reported as yet. Advices from Clayton, N. M. say that snow began falling again at noon to-day and continues to fall to-night. About eight inches of new snow on the top of the twenty inches already on the ground makes it impossible for their folks to keep the track clear. They succeeded in getting trains through yesterday, but are all snowed up again to-night, and the cold is intense, being almost down to zero. Tidings from the small towns and ranches off the railroad confirm the reported loss of life and property during the late storm. From the Tramperas comes the news that three Mexican herders, George Pinard and two companions perished in the second day of the storm. Lujan Brothers, living on the Seneca, lost one herder. A man, name unknown, herding horses in the Rafel district, and two other men left their horses and started for a place of shelter. Becoming numb, he fell and perished. His companions were too much exhausted to help him. The total loss of life so far reported num-bers five souls. Several more are missing and their friends are anxiously searching for them. The loss of sheep in and around this place alone is 26,000 head. Several large herds on the Ute creek are not yet heard from. The loss in cattle will not be as heavy as at first supposed, unless the

In the case of one theater this was the second offense. EAST AFRICA TROUBLE.

German Methods Are Causing the Natives to Rise Against All Foreigners. LONDON, Nov. 11 .- Since the news arrived of the homeward march of Stanley with Emin Pacha and his party, and of the reported disaster of Dr. Peters's relief expedition, the British East African Company has been rapidly picking up all the best available men to send out to protect its territories from raids by the rebellious natives. Captain Lugard, whose name is well known in connection with the Lake Nyassa troubles, and Mr. George S. Mackenzie and 150 men, left Mombasa this week. Judging from the activity displayed in securing fighting men, the British East African Company must anticipate having to do some heavy work in order to hold its territory against the incursions of the Arabs. The latest news from that region indicates that all the native elements are up in arms, and are for the moment brethren in a common cause -to drive out the now detested foreigners.
